Council Awards Seven Letters to Basketballers

The basketball season of 1922-1923 is now history. At the meeting of the Student Council, held last Tuesday evening, the report of the basketball manager was received and approved.

Major "G. W.'s" were awarded to Captain "Jack" Dally, Manager Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., Clarence W. Gosnell, Alfred Goldstein, Francis W. Brown, Otto Z. Klopsch, and Lawrence K. Hyde.

Lester Johnson was elected basketball manager for next year.

Class numerals were awarded to Assistant Managers Lester Johnson and William A. Hipkins; and also to the following members of the Freshmen Team: John Kent (captain), Benjamin Mensh (manager), Louis Joynes, Lionel Beeton, Vernon Brown, Frank Taylor, and Carl Woerner.

Manager Bettelheim in his report to the council said that basketball had not only been a success from a business standpoint, but had made great strides in the University. For the first time in many years the team had traveled into foreign territory and had made a name for the university on the courts, and before the student bodies of other universities. The team had started off with an enviable record by defeating very strong teams, but with the mishaps due to unforeseen causes, the team was badly handicapped later on in the season. Bailee Springston was forced from the game by sustaining a broken wrist in the Georgetown game, which was followed up by disqualifying Elsemann and Jansen, due to lack of sufficient academic credits, and later by Dally and Goldstein being taken down with the grippe. However the esprit de corps of the whole

THIRTY CANDIDATES FOR OUT-DOOR TRACK

Will Train Every Evening at 7 o'clock and on Sunday Morning

LEGION MEET APRIL 21

Many Experienced Men Back and Successful Year is Looked For in All Branches.

About thirty enthusiastic track men assembled at Lisner Hall Monday evening, in response to Manager Tracy's call for a meeting to discuss plans for outdoor training, and prospects look bright for a big year in track, according to Coach Probey.

Captain Tolson made a short talk regarding the work of the squad in the past and future expectations, and Coach Probey spoke of the training to be conducted and the meets in which the squad would participate this season. The Maryland University Quadrangular, scheduled for April 21, has been called off, due to the fact that the new stadium at that place will not be completed by that date. However, the American Legion games will be held April 21, and G. W. will be represented by a good aggregation of track men.

Track training to begin next Monday evening at 7 o'clock, will be held thereafter every week day except Saturday. The squad will dress in the basement of 2017 G Street N. W., and practice at the Monument Grounds near the Municipal Pool. Special Sunday morning training is also contemplated.

SPEAKS TO ENGINEERS

Major William Bowie, chief of geodesy at the Coast and Geodetic Survey, addressed the George Washington University Engineering Society last Monday evening, February 26, in Lisner Hall. He spoke in general of the work of the survey, touching upon the interesting feature of the work, and illustrated by a large number of lantern slides. The lecture gave a clear idea of the scope of the Coast and Geodetic Survey work and its important connection to the various state surveys.

The next meeting of the Engineering Society will be held some time this month, at which time Daniel B. Lloyd will give a talk on the subject of "Designing Bridges for the Modern Railway Locomotive."

TENNIS CANDIDATES

A meeting of all tennis candidates has been called for Monday, March 12, in room 1, Lisner Hall, at 7 p. m.

Summer School Dates

June 18 to August 18

Summer school this year will open on June 18, and close on August 18, and will include the widest curriculum ever offered in a Washington University summer school, according to Dean Ruediger. Over 75 courses will be given. Practically every course given in the regular session can be taken in the summer course this year, and in addition many subjects never before given here.

RUEDIGER IN CHARGE.

A complete study of the Junior High School system will be available for the first time at the request of the Board of Education. The usual courses in history, language, English, chemistry, mathematics, economics, and a score of other subjects will be taught, and also new subjects, such as advanced and beginner's domestic science, astronomy, botany, and conversational Spanish. Dean Ruediger will again be in charge, and as usual the main courses will last nine weeks, while many special subjects will take only six. The six weeks will open on June 26, and close on August 4.

FULL CREDIT GIVEN.

Full credit toward a degree is given for practically all courses, and summer school credits are accepted at full value by almost every college in the United States.

Dean Ruediger points out that the summer session is an excellent opportunity for students to take extra work and graduate in three and a half or even three years, or for night students to take the regular course in four years.

A complete schedule will be available at the office before the end of the month.

DEBATE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURG FRIDAY

Home Team Will Take Affirmative Side of Kansas Industrial Court Question.

WILL BE AT Y. M. C. A.

Charles Haycraft, Franklin Knock, and Edward Scheufler Will Compose Squad—Big Crowd Expected.

The G. W. U. debaters have their initial clash of the forensic season the night of Friday, March 16, when the affirmative team, advocating the extension of the Kansas Industrial Court, composed of Charles Haycraft, Franklin Knock, and Edward L. Scheufler, meets the University of Pittsburgh negative team in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium here.

The same night the G. W. U. negative team on the same question invades Penn State at State College, Pa. The negative team is composed of Oscar Zabel, Jas. E. Stevens, and Hubert Steed. Professor Hector Spaulding of the Law School, is the coach of this squad.

REFRESHMENTS & TALKS AT ENGINEERS' MEETING

The first meeting of the George Washington University Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers was held at the Kappa Tau Omega house, 1734 K Street, on Thursday, March 1st. The students listened with great interest to a talk by Col. Strickler, of the Rosslyn Cement and Supply Co., and also to an interesting talk by Fajardo on engineering conditions and opportunities in the Philippines. Refreshments were then served.

The next meeting of the society will be a joint meeting with the Architectural Club of the University, the date of which will be announced later.

DEBATE TO-NIGHT

At a meeting of the Columbian Debating Society last Friday, the affirmative advocating Government ownership of mines, composed of Kirk Mears and R. C. Crowell, won over W. E. Reese and James Stevens. Crowell received first honors, and Stevens second.

The subject for to-night is: "Resolved, That Great Britain is justified in her Irish Policy." The affirmative will be upheld by Messrs. Hartman and Rosenbush, and the negative by Messrs. Paisley and Watson. The debate will be held at 8 p. m. at the Law School.

CHARM SCHOOL TOMORROW NIGHT AT MASONIC AUDITORIUM

First Junior Play in Many Years Will Be Elaborate, and Splendid Affair; Stage Settings of Exceptional Beauty.

CAST OF UNUSUAL ABILITY

HAVE BEEN PRACTICING FOR WEEKS UNDER DIRECTION OF LEONARD HALL AND WILLIAM BECKER; INCLUDES EIGHT GOOD LOOKING GIRLS AND EIGHT HANDSOME MEN; TICKETS SELLING FAST; DOORS OPEN AT 8 P. M.; DIRECTOR PLANNING EXTENSIVE TOUR IF PLAY IS SUCCESSFUL HERE; DOROTHY BARTLEY AND WILLIAM HIPKINS HAVE LEAD PARTS.

To-morrow night in the Masonic Auditorium, at Thirteenth and New York Avenue, the University will see the event of which it has been hearing so much the last two months. The first and only performance of the Junior play, "The Charm School," before it goes on any extensive tour, will be given there at 8.15 sharp. The cast has been rehearsing nightly for the last eight weeks, and according to Leonard Hall, dramatic editor of the News and co-director of the play, it equals in technical perfection, ability, and enthusiasm of the cast any college play he has ever seen. Tickets are on sale on the campus and at the door at prices ranging from 50 cents to $1.00.

Dorothy Bartley in Lead.

A change in the cast was found necessary, so that the leading lady is now Dorothy Bartley, and the leading man is William Hipkins. The rest of the cast includes George Pryor, Foster Hagan, Pat Malone, Raymond Weber, Ester Scott, Lonnelle Davison, Bess Bartley, Marian Barker, Kenneth Bruner, Alpha Booth, Winifred Hull, Martha Dunham, Sarah Smith, Elizabeth Bigos, and Estelle Siegler.

Many hundreds of dollars have been spent in the scenery alone, several complete sets having been obtained, so that William Becker, director, promises that the settings and lighting effects will equal almost any professional play that comes to Washington.

Many Beautiful Girls.

The Charm School was one of the most popular plays, both on the stage and on the screen, that has come to Washington, and lends itself particularly well to amateur production, and the coy, beautiful maidens and handsome men make the most of their opportunities.

The number of seats in the best section are limited, and many of these have been sold, so that those who desire to obtain their seats near the stage are advised to purchase their tickets to-day.

Director Satisfied.

William Becker, director of the play, stated: "Am, indeed, satisfied with the work of the entire cast of 'The Charm' (Continued on Page Four.)"

DOROTHY BARTLEY

Takes the Lead Part of "Elsie" in the Charm School.

WILLIAM HIPKINS

Takes the Lead Part of "Austin" in the Charm School.

BRONZE MEDAL PRIZE FOR SPANISH ESSAY

El Circulo Espanol in promoting interest in the Spanish language and its literature has announced the giving of a reward for the best original essay on some phase of the life or work of Cervantes. This will be in the form of a bronze medal having the figure of Cervantes on its face and the inscription "Instituto de las Espanas" on the reverse side.

Awaiting the decision of the institution no judges have been selected to decide the contest. A later announcement will give the date and the judges, who will probably be chosen from the Spanish faculty here.

MASONIC SMOKER TO-NIGHT

The Travelers' Fraternity will give its last smoker before being installed as a chapter of Acacia National Masonic College Fraternity, at 1719 Eye Street N. W., on Friday evening, March 9th, at 8 o'clock. The Honorable Sydney Anderson, Member of Congress from Minnesota, will speak. All Masons of the faculty and student body are cordially invited to take advantage of this opportunity to get acquainted and spend a pleasant evening.

GIRL GREEKS PLAN DANCE

The annual dance of the Pan-Hellenic Society will be held April 13, 1923, but the place at which it will be held has yet not been decided. The meeting of the society held yesterday decided nothing definite beyond settling the date for the dance. The arrangements for the place have been left in the hands of a committee, and they will decide the place of holding it at a meeting to be held next Monday.

Wilbur Voices Appreciation of Play Dedication

Fullest appreciation of the honor of being patron of "The Charm School" was voiced last night by Dean William Allen Wilbur.

"I was very much pleased and highly gratified at the action of the Junior play management in designating me patron of that production," said Dean Wilbur.

"It is such tokens of regard as this that have been expressed by the students of this University toward me in the past that have made me grow to love my work more and more with each passing year.

"I want to thank those students who gave me this high honor and assure them that I appreciate it more than I can express. I also want to thank the staff of the Hatchet for chronicling that honor and commenting on it in the complimentary way they did."

It was through the efforts of William S. Becker, managing director of the play, that "The Charm School" was put under the patronage of Dean Wilbur. This action was also intended to signify the dedication of the efforts of the cast to that eminent professor.

MASONS INVITE ALL TO BIG DANCE MARCH 20

Followers of Terpsichore! Take notice! The George Washington University Masonic Club will swing a wonderful dance, one of the kind for which they are famous. All of ye imitators of Adonis, lounge lizards, tea hounds, and all others who shake a wicked or any other kind of foot, will please take notice. For the small sum of two dollars they will be permitted to bring their best girls to the best dance the Masons of the University have ever given. The date of the revel will be March 20th, which falls on a Tuesday. The place, 2400 Sixteenth Street (Meridian Mansions). And last but not least, the music by Meyer Davis' best. Tickets for this festival may be had from R. B. Harding, Law; R. B. Benson, Law; Hammack, Columbian; S. Friedman, the Seaquist Brothers, T. F. Stewart, Engineering, and any other members of the club.

MASONIC CLUB MEETING

The George Washington University Masonic Club will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, March 14, in the Gavel Club rooms at 8 p. m. All of the members are urgently requested to be present, as there will be an election of officers for the coming year. It is also stated that dues for the coming year will be due and payable on the above date.

MRS. HODGKINS TO RECEIVE COLUMBIAN WOMEN

Mrs. Howard Lincoln Hodgkins will receive the members of the Columbian Women and their escorts on Tuesday evening, March 20, from 8 until 11 o'clock, at the residence of President and Mrs. Hodgkins, 1821 Kalorama Road N. W.

WASHINGTON, D. C., - - - - - March 9, 1923

The Masonic Auditorium Tomorrow Night

George Washington University comes into its own again in the field of dramatics when the Junior Play is staged in the Masonic Auditorium tomorrow night.

This is a field worthy of the best efforts of any university. Through the interest and endeavor of a few capable people, G. W. is permitted to assume a high position in dramatic work by the production of a play of professional merit.

Upon the support given by the student body to "The Charm School" depends the continuance of dramatics in the university. If "The Charm School" is the success it merits, production of a graduation play will be immediately begun.

It is to be hoped that every student will attend this dramatic performance and put G. W. back on the dramatic map.

The production has received the approval and support of Dean Wilbur as its patron, and this testifies to its value as a student activity.

Gaining, as it has, the enthusiastic support of this friend of the students, the support and interest of the student body should be immediately forthcoming and the performance should be attended by all the students who are able to gain admittance.

Does He Advertise?

Beginning in this issue of the Hatchet, it is the intention of the editorial staff to publish the names of those Washington business firms that will not advertise in the student paper. This will be done in order to aid the men who do advertise.

If the students here would patronize the Hatchet advertisers, not only would the paper benefit, but student activities would also. When a man realizes that his ads are producing results, he is certain to continue those ads.

The only way for him to know this is by the students mentioning the fact that they have seen his ad in their paper. In this way, more business houses will advertise with us and a bigger, better paper will be the result.

These notices will be published from time to time as Hatchet solicitors are refused advertising space. It is the duty of the student body to take cognizance of the men who will not support us and discontinue trading with them.

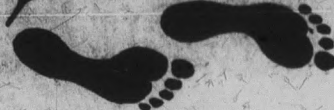

Only those men who handle the best grades of commodities are solicited for advertising. You are sure of receiving fair treatment when you enter those stores. As those men are fair to us, so must we be fair with them. When you select your Spring wardrobe, be sure that you patronize our advertisers.

Summer School

Summer school this year will include the widest curriculum ever offered in a Washington University summer school.

Courses, each under a competent instructor, covering practically every subject taught at the regular session, and in addition many special courses never before offered will be given. Dean Ruediger will again be in charge. The session lasts six weeks, the dates to be announced later.

ROBERT M. BOLTON

Robert M. Bolton, editor of the Hatchet, graduated from Emerson Institute in 1921. Was editor of the Emersonian in 1921; member of Student Council 1920-1921, and manager of football team in 1921. Came to George Washington in 1921. Treasurer of Freshmen Class. News editor of Hatchet in 1921-1922. Member of Pi Delta Epsilon Honorary Journalistic Fraternity.

ROBERT W. PULLIAM

Robert W. Pulliam was Junior Class president in 1920-1921. Entered George Washington University in spring term 1919. Now a student in Law School. Came to G. W. from the University of North Carolina. Was member of Freshman Debating Team there. Was member executive committee Senior Class 1921-1922. Chairman Social Committee last year Law Class, 1921-1922. Member Junior Prom Committee 1922-1923. Member of 1920-1921 Cherry Tree staff, and member of Hatchet staff 1921-1922 and 1922-1923. Member of Columbian Debating Society, Masonic Club, and Enosian Society.

THE SPY

President.

Next week brings us the play that the Presidents have long been promising us. Manager Smith presents, beginning Sunday night, George M. Cohan's great comedy success, "The Meanest Man in the World." This opening is notable for the first appearance of George Barnes, who takes Henry Duffy's place as leading man. Wanda Lyon will again please our eye and the rest of the company will have suitable roles.

National.

Washington receives another dose of the classics when Robert Mantell and Genevieve Hamper appear in repertoire. The first performance will be "Richelleu" on Monday night, and will be followed in succession by "Hamlet," "As You Like It," "Julius Caesar," "King Lear," "Macbeth," "Merchant of Venice," "Julius Caesar." This should be a treat for local lovers of Shakespeare and the classics.

Poli's.

Eleanor Painter, an American favorite, comes to our fair city when she brings her latest effort to Poli's on Monday night. The play is "The Exile," and is described as a romantic comedy. Miss Painter is supported by Jose Rubens, capable actor, and the rest of the company is good.

This Week.

President: The President Players in "Cornered," a dope play. Wanda Lyons doing splendidly in a difficult role. Harry Shutan twitches his way through the evening as a dope fiend. A good presentation and one that pleased the first-night audience.

Garrick: Jack Norworth remains this week as the leading character in "Johnny Get Your Gun." Pure drama enlightened by Norworth songs sung in the Norworth manner. Jack is a cow-boy from the "free and open spaces." An entertaining show.

National: That delightful thing of last season, "Good Morning, Dearie." Louise Groody is as sweet as ever and Oscar Shaw is present with his famous Chloro-Dixo smile. Pretty music by Kern and excellent dancing feature the performance. Recommended.

Poli's: Return of "Blossom Time," the love tragedy of Franz Schubert featuring Schubert music. A pretty thing over which sentimental ladies can shed many tears. Extra performance will be given on Sunday night.

Stupid Steve's Kolum

We understand all the frats that didn't get honorable mention last time are sore. Cheer up, brothers, we'll see that you all get in print, even K. T. O. Somebody told me that Phi Sigs, like the Prodigal Son, having wasted all their substance in riotous living, have moved to a less pretentious club house and are now living on corn husks. They moved right next to the scholarly Theta Deltis. This may or may not have been due to the cordial relations between two skillful politicians who have been associated together in a number of questionable enterprises, viz, namely, to wit, Peterson and Colfish.

Speaking of Theta Deltis, we wonder how they got the name of being literary, but suppose it is because they so many of 'em wear glasses.

Deltis have also obtained a new dormitory, which we understand is now owned by a dusky-hued syndicate. They have permission, we are told, to throw as many and as wild and wicked parties as late in the morning as they desire, injunctions notwithstanding to the contrary. But we know that the restraining influence of Jimmie Nolan will restrain them.

Kappa Alphas are getting closer to down town and respectability. They are nice boys (joke), not afraid of injunctions. "Dieu et les dames." Let us pray.

We are printing a letter we have just received from the Honorable J. Fuller Bunk, recently elected to the United States Senate:

Bunkville, N. G.

Mr. Stupid Stephen,
The University Hatchet.

My Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of February 22, with reference to whether or not I expect to send my son and daughter to George Washington University, will say that after deliberate and mature consideration I have decided to do so. I think very highly of George Washington University, as I worked my way through college myself, having graduated from one of the leading correspondence schools.

Perhaps it would be better from the standpoint of politics to send them to the State University, but this minor consideration is overbalanced by the fact that I can put them on the Senate pay roll while they are here and let them loaf around the office if they feel like it.

Then, again, Mr. Stephen, I must consider the social prestige that they would have in Washington simply on account of being a Senator's children. At the State University one must fight his own way for what he is worth. Besides the above facts, it is quite worth while for a public man to be connected up with one of the our leading educational institutions. It raises him in the public eye. I have two or three good commencement orations now that could be used again if occasion should arise. I would even not be averse to accepting an honorary degree, as you suggested, should one be proffered.

Believe me, my dear sir, to be,

Very sincerely yours,

J. FULLER BUNK, U. S. S.

P. S.—Of course, I shall expect my daughter to join Pi Beta Phi, and my son Sigma Phi Epsilon, as I understand it is customary. I should also be glad if occasion arises to assist any of their friends in college who may need positions in the various Government departments or upon my own patronage at the Capitol so long as it lasts.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

IS the way a JOHN HANCOCK salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business.

He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesmen today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for the years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold to the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

C. U. WINS BY FOUR POINTS IN LAST TREE MINUTES

George Washington suffered another defeat at the hands of Catholic University last night to the tune of 22 to 18. The score was an 18 all tie until about three minutes before time was called, when C. U. pulled away for a win.

The game showed some very good basketball, but neither team was able to score heavily on free tosses. The Hatchettes having but seven chances while C. U. scored only 8 out of 18 tries.

Gosnell and Klopsch led the scoring for G. W., while Lawler and Ebert starred for C. U.

Line-up and summary:

C. U.	G. W.
Eberts Forward	Gosnell Forward
Braslin Forward	Klopsch Forward
Fitzgerald Center	Brown Center
Lawler Guard	Hyde Guard
Lynch Guard	Goldstein Guard

Substitutions, Beeton for Brown. Baskets from the floor, Gosnell 4, Beeton 2, Klopsch, Lawler 2, Lynch 2, Eberts. Free tosses, Klopsch 4 of 7, Lynch 8 of 18. Referee, Hughes. Umpire, Mr. Fitzgerald. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

PRESIDENT HODGKINS COMPLETES FORTY-THIRD TERM WITH G. W. U.

Dr. Winship, Prominent in Educational Field, Comments on Long Service.

In the issue of the Journal of Education (Boston) for February 22, Dr. A. E. Winship has a very complimentary reference to President Howard L. Hodgkins, of George Washington University. Dr. Winship, whom the Educational Review for February, calls "the dead of educational journalists of the United States," recently visited the University, and has this to say editorially of Dr. Hodgkins:

"Howard Lincoln Hodgkins, the first alumnus to be honored with the presidency of George Washington University, D. C., in more than one hundred years, is also one of the few college presidents whose professional work has all been in the institution of which he is president. President Hodgkins, born in Elgin, Illinois, January 23, 1862, was graduated from George Washington University (then Columbian University) in 1883; received the degree of Ph. D. in 1892, and Sc. D. in 1921.

"Immediately upon graduation he began teaching in the University (1883). From 1897 to 1903 he was Dean of Corcoran Scientific School of the University; professor of mathematics 1887 to 1903; professor of physics, 1903 to 1909; head of mathematics department, 1909 to 1921; Dean of College of Engineering, 1900-1902 and 1905-1913; Dean of Arts and Sciences, 1913-1921. Since 1921 he has been president of the University.

"We are quite sure that no other university president in the country has been so variedly and successfully identified with his institution as student and faculty member uninterruptedly for forty-three years as has Howard Hodgkins with his University. Certainly none enjoys to a higher degree the confidence and loyalty of faculty and student body.

"His administration has been marked by substantial increases in enrollment and by the maintenance of the highest academic standards, and his progressiveness is evidenced by the installation of a Dean of Women. A building program and an endowment campaign under his leadership in the near future are not beyond the bounds of possibility."

One of the many ways of creating school spirit. Thiel also has this to say for itself: "Earth has not anything to show more fair." "Atta Boy, Thiel!"

The Razz Berry Press and Stanford Press, student publications of the University of California and the University of Stanford, respectively, are sponsors of a movement to eliminate all co-eds from their institutions. Co-eds are charged with extravagance and lack of regard for self-supporting students. Many of them, it is charged, come to college for social purposes alone, seeking eligible young men, and thus distract men from their studies. They mean it, too! Wow!

THE AMERICAN STUDENT AS I HAVE KNOWN HIM

Frequently I have been asked by my friends: "What do I think of the American student?" My four years of contact and association with American students in different universities of the country where I have attended and had official connections in one way or another, afford me pleasure to say that the average American college student has a high morality; he is broad-minded, intelligent, alert, sympathetic, and good principled. You find him interested in the activities of his school. He is always ready to extend a helping hand; he does not wriggle his co-operation, but gives it heartily and profusely.

In the classroom he is attentive and digests the lectures to a point of understanding, and though he is not generally a good penman, yet he takes down the notes with wonderful rapidity.

In fraternal and social gatherings he is courteous, polite, though seemingly bashful, his demeanor is cordial and gentleman-like.

In co-educational institutions the co-eds constitute a live element in the school. They match their brothers in most of the activities. I have seen and attended many literary programs rendered by college girls that won the praise of critics. The majority of girls that are attending universities have lofty aims and noble aspirations in life.

It is a source of gratification to me to have met and got acquainted with such splendid American students (male and female), whose character I admire and whose friendship I cherish.

NOTICE.

It is imperative that the University be notified by the students of all changes of address, so that it may be in touch with them at all times. The Registrar and Treasurer are continually in need of this information, and it is incumbent upon the students to give it. These officials urge that students notify them promptly of all such changes.

COUNCIL VOTES SWEATERS TO FIRST LETTER WINNERS

Will Award Gold Footballs to Men Who Win Honor Second Time.

It was voted by the Student Council to give the members of this last year's football team, who won their letter for the first time, sweaters, and to give those who have won their letter for two successive years, gold footballs. This ruling has been adopted as part of the eligibility rules of the Athletic Association of George Washington University, and will apply to all members of teams representing George Washington University in the future. At the next meeting of the Student Council the question of making the same rule apply to both men's and girls' basketball teams will be voted on.

Robert McNeil, manager of football, and Edwin Bettelheim, Jr., manager of basketball, were awarded a gold football and a gold basketball, respectively.

The next regular meeting of the Student Council will be held Tuesday, March 20, 1923, in Lisner Hall, room 1, at 8 p. m.

FEW CANDIDATES FOR DAVIS' SPEAKING PRIZE

Only Two Men and no Women Out For Senior Prize.

It seems that the prizes for the elocution contest are going to be easy pickings. Three prizes are to be awarded, and only two contestants have reported. These are Henry Temin and Kirk Mears. The prizes will be of five, ten, and fifteen dollars, or possibly gold medals, which will be of more value.

The endowment for these prizes was made by the Hon. Isaac Davis, of Massachusetts, and will be awarded half on the quality of the composition and half on the delivery. Compositions on any subject must be submitted in typewritten form to the committee on or before March 20, 1923. Each oration will be limited to fifteen minutes. The contest is open to all Seniors in the Department of Arts and Sciences.

COUNCIL AWARDS SEVEN BASKETBALL LETTERS

team was of the finest up to the very last game, when they were beaten by the championship Catholic University team by only two baskets, and during which game the score was tied on two occasions.

Although the management had been burdened at the outset with an expense of $750 for rental of a hall in which to play their games, this was overcome by careful management, by the revenue of over $200, derived from a souvenir basketball program and a very successful interscholastic tournament. The gross cost, including the cost of putting on the interfraternity basketball tournament, the equipping of a Freshman team, standing of part of the expenses of the girls basketball team, the providing of practice nights for the track team, as well as basketball; and the purchasing of sufficient medical supplies to also care for next year's football and basketball needs, was kept well within the budget. The council took occasion to congratulate Manager Bettelheim for having saved nearly $800 on his budget, which was about the amount paid for the rental of the hall, mentioned above.

The report took occasion to commend the services of Byran Morse and Daily, who acted as coach and assistant coach without pay, and to commend the services of the assistant managers Lester Johnson and William Hipkins.

The council awarded gold basketballs to Captain Daily, Manager Bettelheim, and to members of the squad who had won their letters in basketball for the second year. Bettelheim put up a strong and extended plea in behalf of awarding basketballs to all members of the team because of their records, but the council felt that the same award should be made to the basketball men as was made to the football men and as indicated above.

PAY NOW TO GET TREE

Payment of both the first and the second installments of the Student Activity Tax must be made before the 15th of March in order to be sure of securing The Cherry Tree. This action is necessary, as the number of copies to be printed are limited, due to the small amount of funds available this year.

Only enough copies to supply those who pay both semesters before the 15th of March will be ordered, announced Robt. H. McNeil, business manager.

DEFEAT UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA RIFLEMEN

Marksmen Win From Western University in Match Shot by Mail.

On Saturday, March 3, G. W. rifle-men defeated the University of California marksmen, whose team is one of the strongest in the country. Scores were fired on home ranges and results exchanged by telegraph. The conditions of the match were difficult, calling for shooting in all four of the firing positions. The total turned in by the G. W. shooters indicates that they are rapidly approaching a form that will make them difficult to defeat in future matches.

The scores:

Stokes	197
Trimble	198
Everett	187
Barry	186
Espey	186

University of California totaled 932. Stokes' exceptional total of 197 was high individual score for both teams.

This week the last of the N. R. A. League matches is being fired, and the first of the Intercollegiate Association matches began. The latter event promises to be a great scrap, with Syracuse, Yale, University of Pennsylvania, California, Norwich, Georgetown, and a number of lesser lights entered.

INVITE STUDENTS

Dr. Brigham wishes to invite all University students to attend a series of art exhibitions, which she is giving every day at the Art Center, 1106 Connecticut Avenue. They are especially invited to come on Sunday, as the exhibition is then accompanied by a reception and tea.
